Neuhaus Education Center Launches 2022 Speaker Series
Virtual Talk Feature Renowned National Literacy Thought Leaders

May 11, 2022, Bellaire, TX – Neuhaus Education Center, a non-profit educational organization specializing in literacy education is pleased to announce its 2022 Speaker Series. This series will feature topics presented by those who are best able to address them – industry experts and thought leaders dedicated to promoting reading success for all, including struggling reader with dyslexia. Each event will be free and open to the public upon advance registration.

"We are honored to host great speakers giving our educators, families, and industry professionals the opportunity to learn from knowledgeable thought leaders as they explore issue areas in literacy education," said Dr. Tracy White Weeden, President and CEO, Neuhaus Education Center. "This speaker series aligns well with our organization's mission with timely topics continuing to push our core values as we strive in promoting reading success for all. I hope you'll join us."

Speaker lineup:

- May 17: "Empowering Your Child with Dyslexia" featuring Dr. Allison Peck and Lara Speights, Neuhaus Education Center
- June 21: "Leveraging Student Data to Provide Perspective of an Educational Landscape" featuring Dr. Tim Odegard, Middle Tennessee State University
- July 19: "Understanding Special Education and 504 for Students with Dyslexia in Texas" featuring Dustin Rynders, Disability Rights Texas
- August 16: "Uplifting Language Variation in the Classroom: Teaching African American Children to Read" featuring Dr. Julie Washington, University of California – Irvine

The Neuhaus Speaker Series is free to attend, virtual, and includes ALTA CEU credits. Presentations will be available to watch on-demand after each launch date. To register for an upcoming session, please visit www.neuhaus.org/speakerseries.
