Guest Speaker

Evan Weinberger, President & CEO
Staying Ahead of the Game (SAOTG)

Perhaps the most significant shift kids make in their lives is moving from high school to college. Alarming, nearly 25% of students end up back at home within two semesters. This statistic may be higher for students with learning differences, making the transition even more challenging.

Join us for College Share where we will address this crucial phase in a young adult's life and equip college-bound students with the tools they need to succeed. We'll focus on building strong executive function skills, fostering familiarity with the college environment, and establishing a robust support system. With these pillars in place, students will be ready to tackle the new challenges that college life presents.

Evan Weinberger, President & CEO of Staying Ahead of the Game (SAOTG), will be our esteemed speaker. He will offer invaluable tips to students, parents, educators, and support professionals, drawing from SAOTG's proprietary and research-driven program. You'll leave with actionable strategies that can be implemented immediately.

For more than 20 years, Neuhaus Education Center, The Briarwood School, and the Houston Branch of The International Dyslexia Association \(HBIDA\) have hosted College Panel, an annual event where high school students have the opportunity to hear directly from current college students about how to successfully navigate college with learning differences. These students will share information about their colleges, programs available at their schools, and their strategies for success.

This panel is an inspiration for freshmen and sophomores and a necessity for juniors and seniors in high school who are planning to attend college.
